The managements of the Nationalised Bank will be requested by the Chief Labour Commissioner (Central) to furnish the names and addresses of all the registered unions operating in that respective bank. The particulars of unions received from the managements will be forwarded to the Regional Labour Commissioners concerned for checking up from the records of the Registrars of Trade Unions whether the registration of those unions is still alive and whether there are other registered unions operating in the nationalised banks. The Regional Labour Commissioner will report to the Chief Labour Commissioner (Central) the result of their checking. On receipt of this information, the unions will be requested by the Chief Labour Commissioner (Central) to furnish their membership claims in quintuplicate in the enclosed proforma (Annexure I) by a specified date.

2. The registered unions will, thereafter, be purpose of physical verification of the membership, allotted amongst verification officers for the The verification officer will ask the unions (as in Annexure II) by registered post acknowledgement due to produce before him at the stipulated place and time within ten days from the date of receipt of the first notice a list of their members, in triplicate, in different branches/office (bank-wise) who have paid subscription for at least three months during the period of six months preceding the date of reckoning which shall be the first of the month just preceding the month in which the Central Government addresses the Chief Labour Commissioner (Central) to undertake the verification along with –

- (i) membership-cum-subscription register.
- (ii) counterfoils of receipts.
- (iii) cash and account books.
- (iv) bank books.
- (v) copy of union's constitution.
- (vi) registration certificate.
- (vii) affiliation certificate and payment receipts if the union is affiliated to any all-India/State/Federation/Central Organisation.
- (viii) copy of the latest annual return submitted to the Registrar of Trade Unions.
- (ix) list of office-bearers, and
- (x) minutes book.

3. If a union fails to produce the list of its members and other records a second and final notice will be given by registered post acknowledgement due asking it to produce them at the stipulated place and time within ten days from the date of receipt of the second and final notice. If the union again fails to produce them on the second occasion also, no further attempt will be made to verify its membership. However, in respect of the unions which have submitted the lists and records, the verification officer will examine them and ascertain the number of members who had paid three months' subscription within the period of six months preceding the date of reckoning. This examination will be 100 per cent and will be done in the presence of the office-bearers to the union concerned but not in the presence of the office bearers or representatives of a rival union. While doing the verification of membership, the verification officer will give due consideration to any representations which the union officials might make to him.

4. The verification officer will thereafter visit the Central/Registered office of the Nationalised Bank and ensure that the names of members thus verified and included in the list are borne on the rolls of the management on the date of reckoning. All those members whose names are not borne on the rolls of the management on the date of reckoning will be eliminated from the list. The verification officer will also obtain the number of persons employed in the respective branches/offices of the bank on the date of reckoning at the time of his visit to the Central/Registered Office of the bank.

5. The verification officer will thereafter intimate in writing to the unions/federations of unions concerned that the verified lists of their respective members in the bank are ready for inspection by the representative at an appointed time and place. The unions will also at the same time be informed that after inspection of the verified list of members of the rival union(s), they should send, in writing, their specific objections, if any, to the entries in these lists, within 10 days (or a longer period if the number of objections is likely to exceed 10,000 on the basis of one additional day for every 2,000 objections over and above 10,000) of the date of inspection. It should be made clear to the unions that general and vague objections like inflated membership, etc, will not be considered, the objection should give names of persons whose membership of a union is objected to and the reasons therefor.

(The union representative will be allowed to make notes from the verified lists shown to them in the presence of the verification officer, they will however, not be allowed to take any of the lists, nor a copy of the lists will be given to them:)

The objections received from the unions will then be verified by personal interrogation by the verification officer, of the members on the basis of the following system:

- (i) if the objection list furnished by a union consists of 500 or less names of members, the number of persons to be personally interrogated should be 20 per cent subject to a minimum of 100;
- (ii) if the objection list furnished by a union consist of more than 500 but not more than 1,000 names, the number of persons to be personally interrogated should be 15 per cent subject to a minimum of 100;
- (iii) if the objection list furnished by a union consists of more than 1,000 but not more than 2,000 names, the number of persons to be personally interrogated should be 10 per cent subject to a minimum of 150;
- (iv) if the objection list furnished by a union consists of more than 2,000 but not more than 5,000 names, the number of persons to be personally interrogated should be 5 per cent subject to a minimum of 200; and
- (v) if the objection list furnished by a union consists of more than 5,000 names, the number of persons to be personally interrogated should be 2 per cent subject to a minimum of 250.

The person selected for personal interrogation should, among other things, be asked whether they are members of a particular union and whether they had paid subscriptions for three months within a period of six months from the date of reckoning and if so, the amount of subscription paid, the months for which it was paid, etc. The verification officer will maintain a list of members personally interrogated giving their ticket numbers, names and section where working, the result of personal interrogation, etc.

7. Where the sample check reveals that certain members interrogated deny membership of union, its list of members will be modified proportionately. For example, if on checking records it is found that a union has 2,000 valid members and the rival union objects to say 800 of these members a 15 per cent sample of the latter has to be drawn i.e. 120 persons have to be interrogated personally. If on personal interrogation it is found that 30 of the 120 persons (i.e. 25 per cent) deny membership of the union, the strength of the union will be reduced by 25 per cent of 800 persons whose membership was objected to i.e. by 200. In other words the final strength of the union will, in this case, be 1,800.

If the persons who on interrogation deny their membership of the union claiming them as their members, inform the verification officer that they are members of rival union, the verification officer will check their membership with the list of members and records of that union and adjust its list accordingly, i.e. their names will be added to the list of rival union if they are not already included in it and excluded, in the manner mentioned above from the list of claimant union.

8. While conducting personal verification as mentioned in para 6 above, the verification officer will not allow the representatives of any union or management to be present.

9. On completion of the verification work the verification officer will furnish a report to the Chief Labour Commissioner.

Thus, for example, if there are 400 workers in the objection list and a sample of 100 workers is to be selected, the verification officer should select every (400/100th) or 4th worker in the list. It is, however, not necessary that in all cases the selection should begin from the 4th name in the list, the first sample may either be the first name in the list; or the second or the third or the fourth, thus, for example, if the first name is selected as the first sample, then subsequent samples will be 5th, 9th, 13th etc names, if, however, to second name is taken as the sample, the subsequent sample would be 6th, 10th, 14th etc. names in the list.
